Privacy Policy

Last updated 21st September, 2026

We Commit To:

We will not:

 Collect, maintain, use or share Student PII beyond that needed for authorized educational/school purposes, or as authorized by the parent/student.

 Sell student PII.

 Use or disclose student information collected through an educational/school service (whether personal information or otherwise) for behavioral targeting of advertisements to students.

 Build a personal profile of a student other than for supporting authorized educational/school purposes or as authorized by the parent/student.

 Make material changes to School Service Provider education privacy policies without first providing prominent notice to the users and/or account holder(s) (i.e., the institution/agency, or the parent/student when the information is collected directly from the student with student/parent consent) and allowing them choices before data is used in any manner inconsistent with terms they were initially provided; and not make material changes to other policies or practices governing the use of Student PII that are inconsistent with contractual requirements.

 Knowingly retain Student PII beyond the time period required to support the authorized educational/school purposes, or as authorized by the parent/student.

We will:

 Collect, use, share, and retain Student PII only for purposes for which we were authorized by the educational institution/agency, teacher or the parent/student.

 Disclose clearly in contracts or privacy policies, including in a manner easy for institutions and parents to find and understand, what types of Student PII we collect, if any, and the purposes for which the information we maintain is used or shared with third parties.

 Support access to and correction of Student PII by the student or their authorized parent, either by assisting the educational institution in meeting its requirements or directly when the information is collected directly from the student with student/parent consent.

 Maintain a comprehensive security program that is reasonably designed to protect the security, confidentiality, and integrity of Student PII against risks, such as unauthorized access or use, or unintended or inappropriate disclosure, through the use of administrative, technological, and physical safeguards appropriate to the sensitivity of the information.

 Provide resources to support educational institutions/agencies, teachers, or parents/students to protect the security and privacy of Student PII while using the educational service.

 Require that our vendors with whom Student PII is shared in order to deliver the educational service, if any, are obligated to follow these same commitments for the given Student PII.

 Allow a successor entity to maintain the Student PII, in the case of our merger or acquisition by another entity, provided the successor entity is subject to these same commitments for the previously collected Student PII.

 Incorporate privacy and security when developing or improving our educational products, tools, and services and comply with applicable laws.

Introduction

CoGrader ("we," "us," or "our") is committed to protecting the privacy of the people who use our service ("you" or "your"). This Privacy Policy explains how we collect, use, share, and protect information when you use CoGrader.

By using CoGrader, you acknowledge that you have read and understood this Privacy Policy. If you do not agree with it, please do not use our services.

1. Information We Collect

Teacher information: When a teacher creates an account, we collect information such as name, email address, and school affiliation.

Student information: We do not collect personal information directly from students. Teachers and schools provide student work to CoGrader, which may include student names or identification codes for grading purposes. We process this information on behalf of the school, in accordance with FERPA, COPPA, and other applicable laws.

Grading data: Teachers provide assignment questions, rubrics, and student work to CoGrader for grading. This data may include text, images (such as photos of handwritten work), or other media. We treat this data as education records under FERPA.

Google user data: When a teacher connects Google Classroom, we access only the data needed to import assignments and student submissions and to return grades and feedback, such as course lists, assignments, rosters, and submissions. Our use of this data follows the Google API Services User Data Policy, including its Limited Use requirements. See our Google API Disclosure.

Usage information: We collect technical information about how you use CoGrader, such as IP address, device information, browser type, and usage patterns. We use it to operate, secure, and improve the service.

2. How We Use Information

Providing and improving the service: We use teacher and grading data to provide grading and feedback, operate the service, and keep it secure. We may use aggregated and de-identified data to improve feedback quality and features.

No AI model training: CoGrader does not use customer data, including student work, assignment questions, rubrics, prompts, or AI outputs, to train, fine-tune, or develop any AI model. Our AI service providers are contractually prohibited from using this data to train, improve, or develop their models.

Communications: We may use your email address to send service notices, updates, and other relevant information about CoGrader.

Legal compliance: We may disclose information if the law requires it, or to protect the rights, property, or safety of CoGrader, our users, or others.

3. Data Security and Retention

Security: We protect information with encryption in transit and at rest, secure storage, access controls, and regular updates to our security practices. CoGrader holds a SOC 2 Type 1 attestation from an independent auditor.

Data location: CoGrader stores customer data in the United States on Google Cloud Platform.

Retention: We keep personal information only as long as needed for the purposes in this policy, or as the law requires. We delete data when a teacher or school asks, or when the contract ends, unless the law requires us to keep it.

4. How We Share Information

Service providers: We use trusted service providers to operate CoGrader, such as cloud hosting, data analysis, and customer support. They receive only the information they need to perform their work, and they must keep it confidential and secure.

AI service providers: To provide grading and feedback, we share assignment questions, rubrics, and student work with the AI service providers listed below. We do not send student names or other direct student identifiers to these providers, except where a teacher includes them in the content itself (for example, a student writes their name in the essay).

Provider | Service | Purpose |

Google LLC | Gemini, through Google Cloud Vertex AI and Google AI Studio (primary provider) | AI grading and feedback |

OpenAI OpCo, LLC | OpenAI API | AI grading and feedback |

Microsoft Corporation | Azure AI Foundry | AI grading and feedback |

Anthropic, PBC | Claude, through the Anthropic API | AI grading and feedback |

Each AI service provider processes data only to return results to CoGrader, under a data processing agreement and terms that prohibit using our data to train their models. Providers may keep a temporary copy of the data for abuse and safety monitoring (up to 30 days), and then delete it. For more detail, see our AI Transparency Note.

Aggregated data: We may share aggregated and de-identified data for research or statistical purposes. This data does not identify individuals.

We do not sell personal information.

5. Your Rights and Choices

Access and update: Teachers can access and update their information in their CoGrader account.

Opt out of emails: You can opt out of non-essential emails by following the instructions in those emails.

Deletion: To ask us to delete your information, contact us at the address below. We may need to keep some information for legal reasons.

Parents and students: Parents and eligible students can ask the school to access, correct, or delete student information. We help schools respond to these requests.

6. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will give notice of material changes by posting the updated policy on our website and, where required, by notifying schools and account holders before the changes take effect.

7. Contact Us

If you have questions, concerns, or requests about this Privacy Policy, including data deletion, please contact us at privacy@cograder.com.

Terms and Conditions

Last updated 21st September, 2026

Introduction

Please read these Terms and Conditions ("Terms") carefully before using Cograder (the "Service") provided by Cograder ("we," "us," or "our"). These Terms govern your access to and use of the Service.

By accessing or using the Service, you agree to be bound by these Terms. If you disagree with any part of the Terms, you may not access the Service.

1. Use of Service

Eligibility: You must be at least 18 years old or the age of majority in your jurisdiction to use the Service. By using the Service, you represent and warrant that you meet these eligibility requirements.

User Accounts: In order to use certain features of the Service, you may need to create a user account. You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your account information, including your username and password. You agree to provide accurate and complete information when creating an account and to update your information promptly if any changes occur. You are solely responsible for all activities that occur under your account.

Acceptable Use: You agree to use the Service only for lawful purposes and in compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and these Terms. You will not engage in any activity that interferes with or disrupts the Service or its associated networks.

2. Intellectual Property

Ownership: The Service, including all content, features, and functionality, is owned by Cograder and protected by intellectual property laws. You acknowledge and agree that Cograder retains all rights, title, and interest in and to the Service and its content.

Limited License: Subject to your compliance with these Terms, Cograder grants you a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable, revocable license to access and use the Service for its intended purposes. You may not reproduce, distribute, modify, or create derivative works of the Service without our prior written consent.

Feedback: If you choose to provide feedback, suggestions, or ideas regarding the Service ("Feedback"), you grant Cograder a non-exclusive, worldwide, perpetual, irrevocable, royalty-free, sublicensable right to use, copy, modify, distribute, display, and perform the Feedback for any purpose without any obligation or compensation to you.

3. Privacy

Your use of the Service is also subject to our Privacy Policy. By using the Service, you consent to the collection, use, and disclosure of your personal information as described in the Privacy Policy.

4. Limitation of Liability

Disclaimer: The Service is provided on an "as is" and "as available" basis. We make no warranties, express or implied, regarding the Service, including its accuracy, reliability, or availability. We disclaim all warranties to the fullest extent permitted by law.

Limitation of Liability: In no event shall Cograder be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special, or punitive damages, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), or otherwise, arising out of or in connection with your use of the Service.

5. Indemnification

You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless Cograder and its affiliates, directors, officers, employees, and agents from and against any claims, liabilities, damages, losses, costs, or expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, arising out of or in connection with your use of the Service or your violation of these Terms.

6. Governing Law

These Terms shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the state of Delaware, without regard to its conflict of law provisions. Any legal action or proceeding arising out of or relating to these Terms or the Service shall be brought exclusively in the courts of Delaware.

7. Changes to Terms

We reserve the right to modify or replace these Terms at any time. We will notify you of any material changes by posting the updated Terms on the Service or through other communication methods. By continuing to use the Service after such modifications, you agree to be bound by the revised Terms.

8. Contact Us

If you have any questions, concerns, or requests regarding these Terms, please contact us at support@cograder.com.

By using the Cograder service, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agree to be bound by these Terms and any other agreements or policies referenced herein.
