Privacy Policy

This Privacy Policy describes how GradeLab Infotech LLP ("we," "us," or "our") collects, uses, shares, and secures the personal data you provide. It also describes your choices regarding use, access, and changes to your personal data.

Data collected through our service will be limited solely to the purpose of providing the service for which you (the Client) have engaged GradeLab. When third-party companies provide related services to support our platform, such as cloud hosting, authentication, or document processing, we ensure that these third-party companies meet our security standards and those of applicable legislation through comprehensive Data Processing Agreements.

We refer to our platform and website collectively as the "Site."

Introduction

This Privacy Policy applies to GradeLab Infotech LLP and all services operated under the GradeLab brand. This policy describes how GradeLab collects, uses, shares, and secures the personal data you provide. It also describes your choices regarding use, access, and changes to your personal data.

Data collected through our service will be limited solely to the purpose of providing the service for which you (the Client) have engaged GradeLab. When third-party companies provide related services to support our platform, such as cloud hosting, authentication, or document processing, we ensure that these third-party companies meet our security standards and those of applicable legislation through comprehensive Data Processing Agreements.

We refer to our platform and website collectively as the "Site."

Why we collect personal data

When you create an account with us, or when a student has their work processed by GradeLab, we process personal data (such as name, email address, role, and institution) so that we can correctly administer your account and provide you with the best service experience.

All personal data we process is directly linked to a specific purpose, such as:

• Grading assignments

• Processing educational documents

• Providing authentication services

• Delivering customer support

Your Control

At any time, you can access, update, rectify or erase any personal data by logging into your account and clicking "Account Settings" or "Privacy Controls," or by contacting Customer Support at info@gradelab.io.

Protecting your data

We endeavor to keep your personal data safe and secure at all times. Personal data is processed in various locations depending on the specific service and your institution's preferences:

Infrastructure Overview

• Global Infrastructure: Our platform utilizes enterprise-grade cloud infrastructure with data centers in the United States, Europe (EU), and other regions as required

• Regional Data Residency: European institutions can opt for EU-based data storage and processing, with limited exceptions for certain AI-powered features like handwritten formula recognition

• India-based Operations: As an India-based company, we maintain operational oversight and compliance from our Ahmedabad headquarters

Security Safeguards

In all cases, we have robust technical and organizational safeguards in place to protect personal data:

• Encryption: TLS 1.3 for data in transit, AES-256 encryption for data at rest

• Access Controls: Multi-factor authentication required, role-based access control, and strict authorization policies

• Continuous Monitoring: 24/7 security monitoring through our compliance platform

• Regular Audits: Annual SOC 2 Type II audits and quarterly security assessments

Important Security Notice

Passwords are required to access your personal data, so please remember to keep your password confidential. Even with the best security systems, it is impossible to guarantee 100% protection from hackers and unauthorized third parties who capture information provided over public networks.

Document Processing

When a document is submitted to GradeLab, it is processed using our proprietary grading and assessment technology, supported by AI-powered optical character recognition (OCR) for handwritten and scanned content.

Important: GradeLab does not maintain a repository of student papers for comparison purposes. Each institution determines data retention policies through their administrator settings, and we can remove student data from our systems at the request of a school administrator or student (as permitted by institutional policy).

What's most important

Compliance

GradeLab serves a global community of educators and students, whose views on data privacy may differ significantly. Our platform and services, as well as our privacy policies, are regularly audited and inspected by both employees and external consultants to ensure that we meet, and exceed where possible, privacy expectations and requirements.

GradeLab conducts periodic compliance reviews through our Sprinto continuous compliance platform to verify that this Privacy Policy is accurate, comprehensive, prominently displayed, lawful, complete, implemented, and accessible.

Accountability: Any employee who violates this Privacy Policy will be subjected to disciplinary action.

Model Contract Clauses

Where necessary, for data transfers outside the EEA, we utilize the Model Contractual Clauses (Standard Contractual Clauses). In each case, we put in place appropriate technical and organizational measures to protect personal data.

All our third-party service providers—including hosting providers, authentication services, AI processing partners, and customer communication platforms—have executed comprehensive Data Processing Agreements with Standard Contractual Clauses where applicable.

Evolving Legislation

Due to the ever-changing nature of legislation around data privacy, we reserve the right to make lawful changes as needed and recommend that you periodically check this Privacy Policy to see if there have been any new developments or changes.

We continually look for ways to move toward more robust protection. As an India-based company serving global customers, we comply with:

• Digital Personal Data Protection Act (DPDPA) in India

• GDPR for European users

• Other applicable international data protection regulations

Personal data

Because we provide education services, we are vocal advocates for safeguarding student data and privacy and want to make sure that parents, educators, and schools know this. We are committed to protecting the privacy rights of students and educators and maintain GDPR compliance through continuous monitoring and regular audits.

Data We Collect

When an institution's administrator or instructor creates an account with us, we ask for their personal data such as name, email, institution name, and role, so that we can correctly administer their account and provide them with the best service.

Purpose of Data Collection

The type of information we request is connected to a specific purpose, namely to:

• Verify your identity and connection with a specific institution, to determine your eligibility to use our services

• Provide secure authentication and access control to the platform

• Process and grade educational documents and assignments

• Provide receipt and confirmation of successful document uploads

• Send important messages about our service, such as any changes to functionality

• Send system emails, including account setup and password reset information, as well as digital confirmations when you submit assignments

• Provide additional product and service support as needed

• Improve our AI-powered grading and document processing features

AI and Document Processing

When you submit documents for grading or assessment, we may use AI-powered services for optical character recognition (OCR), handwriting recognition, and document analysis.

Privacy Guarantee: These AI services process your documents temporarily and in real-time. Documents are held only for the duration necessary for processing and are automatically deleted within 24 hours from AI processing systems. We do not use student documents to train AI models without explicit consent.

Putting You in Control

We always give you the choice to opt out of email communication, with the exception of system emails, such as digital receipts and password reset information.

How to Access or Modify Your Data

At any time, customers may access, correct, change completely or anonymize the personal data that you have provided us by following these steps:

1. Log in to your account using your username and password

2. Click the "Account Settings" or "Privacy Controls" link to open your user profile and view or make changes to your personal data

3. Use the data export function to download your data in machine-readable format (JSON/CSV)

Need Help?

If you have any trouble or would like for us to make changes for you, please email info@gradelab.io.

Our Customer Support can also provide you with information about whether we hold, or process on behalf of a third party, any of your personal data.

Response Time: We respond to requests within 30 calendar days

Exceptional Circumstances

We may disclose your personal data in order to comply with a subpoena, court order, or similar legal process or government request when we are required by law to do so.

If GradeLab is involved in a merger, acquisition, or sale of all or a portion of its assets, you will be notified via email and/or a prominent notice on our website, of any change in ownership, uses of your personal data, and choices you may have regarding your personal data.

We will only disclose your personal data to a third party with your prior consent or as required by law.

Tracking technologies

Cookies

GradeLab and its partners may use cookies or similar technologies to analyze trends, administer the Site, track users' movements around the Site, and gather demographic information about the user base as a whole.

We do not use cookies for profiling or targeted advertising.

You can control whether or not cookies are allowed through your browser. If you choose to disable cookies, it may limit use of certain features or functions of our platform or service.

Social Media Features & Widgets

Our Site may include social media features, such as share buttons or interactive mini-programs. These features may collect your IP address, record which pages you visit on our site, and set a cookie to enable the feature to function properly.

These features and widgets may be hosted by a third party. Your interactions with these features are governed by the privacy policy of the company providing the specific feature.

Ads

No Advertising: We do not serve ads on our site. We do not partner with third parties for advertising based on browsing activities.

Log Files

As is true of most websites, we gather certain information automatically and store it in log files. This information may include internet protocol (IP) addresses, browser type, internet service provider (ISP), referring/exit pages, operating system, date/time stamp, and/or clickstream data.

We may combine this automatically collected log information with other information we collect about you. We do this to improve services we offer you, enhance platform security, and improve site functionality.

Retention: Log data is retained for 12-24 months for security and compliance purposes.

Choice

We always give you the choice to opt out of email communication, with the exception of system emails, such as assignment confirmations, grade notifications, and password reset information.

• You have the opportunity to opt-out of receiving communications from us when we first request your personal data

• You can opt out of receiving further communications by using the unsubscribe link in our emails or visiting your account privacy settings

• You can modify your personal data anytime by logging into your account, selecting "Account Settings" or "Privacy Controls," and making changes as desired

RB2B Tracking & Cookies

Overview

GradeLab uses RB2B tracking technologies on our website to enhance user experience, understand visitor behavior, and improve our services. This section provides detailed information about how RB2B tracking works, what data is collected, and your rights regarding this data processing.

What is RB2B?

RB2B (Retention.com) is a tracking and analytics service that helps us understand how visitors interact with our website. It uses cookies and similar technologies to collect information about website usage patterns and visitor behavior.

How RB2B Tracking Works

When you visit or log in to our website, cookies and similar technologies may be used by our online data partners or vendors (including RB2B) to:

• Track your activities and interactions on our website

• Associate these activities with other personal information they or others have about you

• Link your website visits with your email address or other identifiers

• Provide analytics and insights to improve our services

• Enable us to send relevant communications and marketing materials

Standard Data Processing Notice

When you visit or log in to our website, cookies and similar technologies may be used by our online data partners or vendors to associate these activities with other personal information they or others have about you, including by association with your email. We (or service providers on our behalf) may then send communications and marketing to these email addresses. You may opt out of receiving this advertising by visiting https://app.retention.com/optout.

Important Clarification

GradeLab, as your service provider, does not directly contact individuals based solely on RB2B data collection. This notice ensures transparency with our website visitors about potential communications from us or our service providers based on information collected through these tracking technologies.

International Company-Level Identification & GDPR

If you are accessing our services from the European Economic Area (EEA), United Kingdom, or other regions with data protection regulations, additional protections apply:

GDPR-Compliant Data Processing Notice

When you visit or log in to our website, cookies and similar technologies may be used by our online data partners or vendors to associate these activities with other personal information they or others have about you, including by association with your email. We (or service providers on our behalf) may then send communications and marketing to these email addresses.

You may opt out of receiving this advertising by visiting https://app.retention.com/optout.

You also have the option to opt out of the collection of your personal data in compliance with GDPR. To exercise this option, please visit https://www.rb2b.com/rb2b-gdpr-opt-out.

Your Privacy Rights & Opt-Out Options

We respect your right to control how your data is collected and used. You have multiple options to opt out of RB2B tracking:

Standard Opt-Out (All Users)

Opt Out of RB2B Tracking

Visit: https://app.retention.com/optout

This will opt you out of receiving advertising and communications based on RB2B tracking data.

GDPR Opt-Out (EU/EEA/UK Users)

GDPR-Compliant Data Collection Opt-Out

Visit: https://www.rb2b.com/rb2b-gdpr-opt-out

This will opt you out of the collection of your personal data in compliance with GDPR requirements.

Additional Opt-Out Methods

• Browser Settings: Configure your browser to block third-party cookies or disable cookies entirely (note: this may limit website functionality)

• Cookie Banner: Use our cookie consent management tool to customize your cookie preferences when you first visit our site

• Account Settings: If you have a GradeLab account, you can manage your privacy preferences in "Account Settings" → "Privacy Controls"

• Email Us: Contact our Privacy Team at privacy@gradelab.io to request manual opt-out

Data Collected by RB2B

RB2B may collect and process the following types of information:

Data Category | Examples | Purpose |

Website Activity | Pages visited, time on site, navigation paths | Analytics, user experience improvement |

Device Information | Browser type, operating system, device type | Technical support, compatibility optimization |

Geographic Data | IP address location, timezone | Regional service customization |

Referral Sources | How you found our website | Marketing effectiveness analysis |

Interaction Patterns | Clicks, scrolls, form interactions | Website usability improvements |

Third Parties

GradeLab works with trusted third-party service providers to deliver our services. These partners are carefully selected and contractually obligated to maintain the same high standards of data protection that we uphold.

Service Providers

We may share your data with the following types of third parties:

• Cloud Infrastructure Providers: For hosting and data storage

• Authentication Services: For secure user login and account management

• AI Processing Partners: For document analysis and grading assistance

• Communication Platforms: For sending emails and notifications

• Analytics Services: For website and product usage analysis

All third-party service providers are bound by Data Processing Agreements that include Standard Contractual Clauses where applicable, ensuring your data is protected according to the highest international standards.

Data Sharing

We do not sell, trade, or rent your personal data to third parties for marketing purposes. Data sharing is limited to the purposes necessary to provide our services and is always conducted in compliance with applicable data protection laws.

Security

Security is fundamental to our operations. We employ multiple layers of protection to safeguard your data throughout its lifecycle.

Technical Security Measures

• Encryption: All data is encrypted in transit and at rest using industry-standard protocols

• Access Controls: Strict role-based access controls and multi-factor authentication

• Network Security: Web Application Firewalls and DDoS protection

• Monitoring: Continuous security monitoring and threat detection

Organizational Security

• Employee Training: Regular security awareness training for all staff

• Incident Response: Established procedures for security incidents

• Audits: Regular security audits and compliance assessments

• Background Checks: Thorough screening of employees with data access

Security Limitations

While we implement comprehensive security measures, no system is completely immune to threats. We encourage users to maintain strong passwords and report any suspicious activity immediately.

Data Integrity

We are committed to maintaining the accuracy, completeness, and reliability of the personal data we process.

Data Quality

We implement measures to ensure data accuracy:

• Regular data validation and cleansing processes

• User verification procedures for account creation

• Automated checks for data consistency

• Manual review processes for sensitive data

Data Minimization

We collect only the data necessary for our legitimate business purposes and regularly review our data collection practices to ensure compliance with data minimization principles.

Data Portability

You have the right to receive your data in a structured, commonly used format, and to transmit that data to another controller where technically feasible.

Policy Changes

This Privacy Policy may be updated periodically to reflect changes in our practices, technology, legal requirements, or other factors.

Notification of Changes

When we make material changes to this Privacy Policy, we will:

• Update the "Last Updated" date at the top of this policy

• Notify users via email (where applicable)

• Post prominent notices on our website

• Provide a summary of key changes

Continued Use

Your continued use of our services after changes to this Privacy Policy become effective constitutes acceptance of the updated policy.

Review Recommendations

We recommend reviewing this Privacy Policy periodically to stay informed about how we protect your data.

Notices

All notices required under this Privacy Policy will be provided in writing and delivered by email or through our platform notification system.

Contact Information

For privacy-related inquiries or to exercise your rights, please contact:

Privacy Team

Email: privacy@gradelab.io

Address: C-1201, Casa Vyoma, Bh Alphaone Mall, Vastrapur, Jodhpur Char Rasta, Ahmedabad, Gujarat, IN 380015

Response Time: We aim to respond to all privacy inquiries within 30 calendar days.

Language

This Privacy Policy is provided in English. In case of any discrepancies between different language versions, the English version shall prevail.

GDPR Compliance

As an organization serving users in the European Economic Area (EEA), we are committed to full compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

Your GDPR Rights

Under GDPR, you have the following rights regarding your personal data:

• Right to Information: To be informed about how your data is processed

• Right of Access: To obtain confirmation that your data is being processed and to access your data

• Right to Rectification: To have inaccurate data rectified or incomplete data completed

• Right to Erasure: To have your data erased ("right to be forgotten")

• Right to Restriction: To restrict processing of your data

• Right to Data Portability: To receive your data in a structured format

• Right to Object: To object to processing based on legitimate interests

• Rights Related to Automated Decision-Making: To not be subject to automated decisions with significant effects

Lawful Basis for Processing

We process your data based on the following lawful bases:

• Contract: Processing necessary for the performance of a contract

• Legitimate Interest: Processing necessary for our legitimate business interests

• Legal Obligation: Processing necessary to comply with legal obligations

• Consent: Where you have given explicit consent for specific processing

Data Protection Officer

Our Data Protection Officer can be contacted at privacy@gradelab.io for any GDPR-related matters.

International Data Transfers

For data transfers outside the EEA, we implement appropriate safeguards including Standard Contractual Clauses to ensure adequate protection of your data.

GDPR

EU Data Protection and GDPR Compliance

We work with educators and educational institutions all over the world, and processing your personal data lawfully in order to earn your trust is our top priority. We understand that data protection is essential for good customer service. At GradeLab, our objective is to operate transparently, with accountability, and consistently with the EU, US, and international regulatory environments so that our valued customers feel secure and in control.

GradeLab's Commitment to Data Protection

GradeLab is fully committed to the following practices to protect your data:

We will NEVER sell your data

We will NEVER use your data for targeted advertising or behavioral profiling

We will NEVER use student work to train AI models

We secure your data with strong encryption and security best practices on US-based infrastructure (Vercel & Cloudflare)

We respect local privacy laws and work with legal experts to stay abreast of changes

When we collect data, we use it for a specific, stated purpose: to provide grading and assessment services

If we need to send any of your data to a third-party service provider, we require a strict contractual agreement that they handle and secure your data with the same high level of protection and care that we deliver

We respect your right to retain ownership and control of your data, so that you can modify, update, or delete it as needed

Compliance Today

We currently meet stringent data protection laws across jurisdictions and are proactively reviewing every aspect of how we handle data and investing in operational measures to ensure that we continue to meet our customers' requirements. For detailed compliance information, please visit our Trust & Compliance Center.

GradeLab uses Standard Contractual Clauses (SCCs) approved by the European Commission to meet the requirements for data transfers from the European Union (EU) and European Economic Area (EEA) to the United States. These are standardized contracts that certify that any data transferred outside the EU is adequately protected. This provides legal certainty for our EU-based customers.

Similarly, for data transfers from India to the United States, we implement appropriate safeguards including contractual protections and technical security measures.

The steps we take to maintain the integrity and confidentiality of personal data include:

We strongly recommend that educational institutions provide notice to students and parents that The GradeLab Platform involves data processing on US-based servers (Vercel & Cloudflare), and we recommend that appropriate consent or legal basis is obtained from students/parents as required by local law

Educational institutions are free to inspect or audit our data processing practices at any time

All student work and any associated personal data is encrypted and kept secure at all times using industry-leading security measures

Students can maintain privacy by educators using student ID numbers instead of full names, or by submitting work in formats that contain minimal identifying metadata

Educators control access to student data and can delete it at any time through their dashboard or by contacting us

General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR)

The GDPR has legal effect in all EU Member States from 25 May 2018. The Data Protection Directive (Directive 95/46/EC) has been replaced by the GDPR. Although it is a regulation and immediately effective in all EU Member States, there are certain aspects within the GDPR that Member States may legislate upon at a national level for specific reasons, therefore this policy may be updated accordingly from time to time.

The Legal Basis for Processing Personal Data

GradeLab primarily relies upon the following legal bases under the GDPR for processing personal data:

Article 6(1)(b) - Contract: Processing is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject (educator or institution) is party. When an educator signs up for GradeLab, we need to process their data to fulfill our contractual obligations to provide grading services.

Article 6(1)(e) - Public Task: GradeLab relies upon the official authority of the Data Controller (the educational institution that is GradeLab's customer) to process student data for educational assessment purposes.

Article 6(1)(f) - Legitimate Interests: It is in the legitimate interests of educators and educational institutions to process student assessment data to evaluate learning outcomes and provide feedback.

Consent is not the primary basis for processing upon which GradeLab relies for educational data processing. However, we encourage educational institutions to obtain appropriate consent or ensure another valid legal basis exists under their local laws.

Data Processing Roles

GradeLab acts as a Data Processor: Educational institutions and educators act as Data Controllers. GradeLab processes personal data on behalf of and under the instructions of the Data Controller.

Data Controller Responsibilities: The educational institution or educator is responsible for ensuring they have a lawful basis for processing student data and for complying with data subject rights requests.

Data Processor Responsibilities: GradeLab is responsible for processing data only as instructed, implementing appropriate security measures, and assisting the Data Controller in fulfilling their obligations.

Key Aspects of the GDPR

The following are some notable aspects of the GDPR that guide our operations:

Scope: The GDPR applies to all personal data processed about EU residents, regardless of where the processing occurs

Accountability: We must demonstrate compliance with GDPR principles through documentation, policies, and procedures

Privacy by Design: Privacy must be embedded into everything (services, software, systems, and processes) by design and by default

Data Subject Rights: Individuals' rights have been strengthened, including rights to access, rectification, erasure, and data portability

International Transfers: To export data outside the EEA, Standard Contractual Clauses (SCCs) or other appropriate safeguards must be used, which GradeLab implements

Breach Notification: We must notify Data Controllers of any personal data breaches within 72 hours

GDPR Data Processing Details

The following information applies to our data processing activities under the GDPR:

Subject matter of processing | Processing of student academic work (handwritten/digital submissions) and associated personal data to provide AI-assisted grading and assessment services |

Duration of processing | Storage of submissions continues until educator account closure or deletion request from the Data Controller |

Nature of processing | Collection, storage, retrieval, OCR transcription, AI-assisted grading analysis (not used for AI training) |

Purpose of processing | To enable educators to efficiently grade student work, provide feedback, and analyze learning outcomes |

Type of personal data | Educator: name, email, institution, job title, phone; Student: name, student ID (optional), academic work, grades |

Categories of data subjects | Educators (teachers, professors, instructors) and students |

Sub-processors | Vercel (hosting and infrastructure), Cloudflare (CDN, security, and Web Application Firewall), Clerk (authentication and role-based access control), AI service providers (OCR and document processing), Intercom (customer support and communication), database and storage providers - all with strict data processing agreements and GDPR-compliant contracts |

Data Subject Rights Under GDPR

Individuals (both educators and students) have the following rights under the GDPR:

Right to Access: The right to obtain confirmation that personal data is being processed and to access that data

Right to Rectification: The right to correct inaccurate personal data

Right to Erasure ("Right to be Forgotten"): The right to request deletion of personal data under certain circumstances

Right to Restriction of Processing: The right to request that processing be restricted under certain circumstances

Right to Data Portability: The right to receive personal data in a structured, commonly used format

Right to Object: The right to object to processing based on legitimate interests

Rights Related to Automated Decision-Making: The right not to be subject to decisions based solely on automated processing

Exercising Rights: Because GradeLab acts as a Data Processor, students must exercise their GDPR rights by contacting their educational institution or educator (the Data Controller). The institution will then work with GradeLab to fulfill the request.

Educators can exercise their own rights directly by logging into their account or contacting info@gradelab.io.

Home-Terms & Conditions

Terms & Conditions

Please read these Terms and Conditions ("Terms") carefully before using GradeLab (the "Service") provided by GradeLab ("we," "us," or "our"). These Terms govern your access to and use of the Service.

By accessing or using the Service, you agree to be bound by these Terms. If you disagree with any part of the Terms, you may not access the Service.

1. Use of Service

1.1 Eligibility

You must be at least 18 years old or the age of majority in your jurisdiction to use the Service. By using the Service, you represent and warrant that you meet these eligibility requirements. The Service is intended for use by educators, educational institutions, and authorized personnel only.

1.2 User Accounts

To use certain features of the Service, you may need to create a user account. You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your account information, including your username and password. You agree to provide accurate and complete information when creating an account and to update your information promptly if any changes occur. You are solely responsible for all activities that occur under your account.

GradeLab uses Clerk for authentication and role-based access control (RBAC). You acknowledge that your account credentials are managed through secure authentication systems, and you must not share your account credentials with any third party.

1.3 Acceptable Use

You agree to use the Service only for lawful purposes and in compliance with all applicable laws, regulations, and these Terms. You will not engage in any activity that interferes with or disrupts the Service or its associated networks.

Prohibited activities include, but are not limited to:

• Uploading or processing student data without proper authorization from the educational institution

• Attempting to reverse engineer, decompile, or extract the AI grading algorithms or proprietary technology

• Using the Service to process data for purposes other than educational assessment and grading

• Sharing account credentials or allowing unauthorized access to the Service

• Introducing viruses, malware, or other harmful code into the Service

• Using automated systems to access the Service in a manner that exceeds reasonable use

• Violating any applicable data protection laws, including GDPR, CCPA, or local privacy regulations

1.4 Educational Institution Authorization

When using the Service to process student data, you represent and warrant that you have obtained all necessary authorizations from your educational institution and, where required by law, from students or their parents/guardians. GradeLab acts as a Data Processor under GDPR and similar regulations, and you (or your institution) act as the Data Controller.

2. Intellectual Property

2.1 Ownership

The Service, including all content, features, functionality, AI grading algorithms, OCR technology, and proprietary systems, is owned by GradeLab and protected by intellectual property laws. You acknowledge and agree that GradeLab retains all rights, title, and interest in and to the Service and its content, including but not limited to patents, copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets, and other proprietary rights.

2.2 Limited License

Subject to your compliance with these Terms, GradeLab grants you a limited, non-exclusive, non-transferable, revocable license to access and use the Service for its intended educational purposes. You may not reproduce, distribute, modify, create derivative works of, publicly display, publicly perform, republish, download, store, or transmit any part of the Service without our prior written consent.

You may not use any automated system, including "robots," "spiders," or "offline readers," to access the Service in a manner that sends more request messages to our servers than a human can reasonably produce in the same period.

2.3 Student and Educator Intellectual Property

Students and educators will at all times retain 100% ownership of their intellectual property rights.

GradeLab does not ever assert or claim copyright ownership of any works submitted to or through our Platform. Your property is YOUR property. Student work belongs to the student; educator materials belong to the educator.

GradeLab does NOT use student work to train AI models. Student submissions are used solely for the purpose of providing grading services to the educator who uploaded them. We do not incorporate student work into any machine learning training datasets, whether for our own systems or third-party AI services.

2.4 Feedback

If you choose to provide feedback, suggestions, or ideas regarding the Service ("Feedback"), you grant GradeLab a non-exclusive, worldwide, perpetual, irrevocable, royalty-free, sublicensable right to use, copy, modify, distribute, display, and perform the Feedback for any purpose without any obligation or compensation to you.

3. Privacy and Data Protection

3.1 Privacy Policy

Your use of the Service is also subject to our Privacy Policy, which complies with applicable data protection laws including the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011 (India), GDPR (European Union), CCPA (California), and other relevant regulations. By using the Service, you consent to the collection, use, and disclosure of your personal information as described in the Privacy Policy.

3.2 Data Processing Roles

GradeLab acts as a Data Processor: Educational institutions and educators act as Data Controllers. GradeLab processes personal data on behalf of and under the instructions of the Data Controller.

Data Controller Responsibilities: The educational institution or educator is responsible for ensuring they have a lawful basis for processing student data and for complying with data subject rights requests.

Data Processor Responsibilities: GradeLab is responsible for processing data only as instructed, implementing appropriate security measures, and assisting the Data Controller in fulfilling their obligations.

3.3 Data Security

GradeLab implements comprehensive security measures to protect your data, including:

• Encryption in transit using TLS 1.3

• Encryption at rest using AES-256

• Cloudflare Web Application Firewall (WAF) protection

• Vercel managed infrastructure with enterprise-grade security

• Role-based access control (RBAC) through Clerk

• Regular security audits and penetration testing

For detailed information about our security practices, please visit our Trust & Compliance Center.

3.4 Sub-processors

GradeLab uses the following sub-processors to provide the Service:

• Vercel: Cloud hosting and infrastructure services (US-based, SOC 2 Type II certified)

• Cloudflare: Content delivery network (CDN), security services, and Web Application Firewall (WAF) (global edge network, SOC 2 Type II certified)

All sub-processors are contractually bound to maintain the same level of data protection and security as GradeLab, with strict data processing agreements that comply with GDPR, CCPA, and other applicable data protection regulations.

3.5 Data Retention and Deletion

GradeLab will retain personal data we process on behalf of educators and institutions for as long as needed to provide services. We retain educator and student information for as long as the educator account is active or as needed to provide services. Upon account closure, data is retained for 30 days for recovery purposes, then permanently deleted, unless we are required to retain it for legal obligations.

You may request deletion of your data at any time by contacting info@gradelab.io.

4. Service Availability and Modifications

4.1 Service Availability

We strive to provide continuous availability of the Service but do not guarantee uninterrupted, secure, or error-free operation. The Service may be temporarily unavailable due to maintenance, updates, technical issues, or circumstances beyond our control. We reserve the right to modify, suspend, or discontinue any part of the Service at any time with or without notice.

4.2 Service Modifications

GradeLab reserves the right to modify, update, or discontinue features of the Service at any time. We will provide reasonable notice of material changes that may affect your use of the Service. Continued use of the Service after such modifications constitutes acceptance of the changes.

5. Limitation of Liability

5.1 Disclaimer

The Service is provided on an "as is" and "as available" basis. We make no warranties, express or implied, regarding the Service, including its accuracy, reliability, availability, or fitness for a particular purpose. We disclaim all warranties to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, including but not limited to warranties of merchantability, non-infringement, and fitness for a particular purpose.

While GradeLab uses advanced AI technology for grading, we do not guarantee 100% accuracy in grading results. The Service is designed to assist educators but should be used as a tool alongside professional judgment.

5.2 Limitation of Liability

To the extent permitted by applicable law, in no event shall GradeLab, its affiliates, directors, officers, employees, agents, or licensors be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, consequential, special, or punitive damages, whether in contract, tort (including negligence), strict liability, or otherwise, arising out of or in connection with your use of the Service, including but not limited to:

• Loss of data, profits, or business opportunities

• Service interruptions or unavailability

• Errors or inaccuracies in grading results

• Unauthorized access to or use of your account or data

• Any other damages resulting from your use or inability to use the Service

Our total liability to you for all claims arising from or related to the Service shall not exceed the amount you paid to GradeLab in the twelve (12) months preceding the claim, or one hundred dollars ($100), whichever is greater.

6. Indemnification

You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless GradeLab and its affiliates, directors, officers, employees, agents, and licensors from and against any claims, liabilities, damages, losses, costs, or expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees, arising out of or in connection with:

• Your use of the Service

• Your violation of these Terms

• Your violation of any applicable laws or regulations

• Your infringement of any intellectual property or other rights of any third party

• Any content or data you submit, post, or transmit through the Service

• Your failure to obtain proper authorization for processing student data

7. Account Termination and Suspension

7.1 Termination by You

You may terminate your account at any time by contacting info@gradelab.io. Upon termination, your right to use the Service will immediately cease, and we will delete your data in accordance with our data retention policy.

7.2 Termination by GradeLab

GradeLab reserves the right to suspend or terminate your account immediately, without prior notice, for reasons including but not limited to:

• Violation of these Terms or our Privacy Policy

• Unauthorized use of the Service or attempt to access restricted areas

• Processing student data without proper authorization

• Attempting to reverse engineer or extract proprietary algorithms

• Sharing account credentials or allowing unauthorized access

• Engaging in fraudulent, abusive, or illegal activities

• Non-payment of fees (if applicable)

• Extended period of account inactivity

7.3 Effect of Termination

Upon termination, your right to access and use the Service will immediately cease. All provisions of these Terms that by their nature should survive termination shall survive, including ownership provisions, warranty disclaimers, indemnity, and limitations of liability.

8. Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

8.1 Governing Law

These Terms shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of India, without regard to its conflict of law provisions. Any legal action or proceeding arising out of or relating to these Terms or the Service shall be brought exclusively in the courts of Ahmedabad, Gujarat, India.

8.2 Dispute Resolution

Any dispute arising out of or in connection with these Terms, including any question regarding its existence, validity, or termination, shall be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration under the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996. The seat of arbitration shall be Ahmedabad, Gujarat, India. The language of the arbitration shall be English. The number of arbitrators shall be one (1).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, either party may seek injunctive relief in any court of competent jurisdiction to protect its intellectual property rights or confidential information.

9. Changes to Terms

We reserve the right to modify or replace these Terms at any time. We will notify you of any material changes by posting the updated Terms on the Service, sending an email to the address associated with your account, or through other communication methods. Material changes will be effective thirty (30) days after such notice is provided.

By continuing to use the Service after such modifications, you agree to be bound by the revised Terms. If you do not agree to the modified Terms, you must stop using the Service and may terminate your account.

10. Miscellaneous

10.1 Entire Agreement

These Terms, together with our Privacy Policy and any other legal notices published by GradeLab on the Service, constitute the entire agreement between you and GradeLab concerning the Service and supersede all prior agreements and understandings.

10.2 Severability

If any provision of these Terms is found to be unenforceable or invalid, that provision shall be limited or eliminated to the minimum extent necessary so that these Terms shall otherwise remain in full force and effect.

10.3 Waiver

No waiver of any term of these Terms shall be deemed a further or continuing waiver of such term or any other term, and GradeLab's failure to assert any right or provision under these Terms shall not constitute a waiver of such right or provision.

10.4 Assignment

You may not assign or transfer these Terms or your rights hereunder, in whole or in part, by operation of law or otherwise, without our prior written consent. We may assign these Terms or any rights hereunder without your consent.

10.5 Force Majeure

GradeLab shall not be liable for any failure or delay in performance under these Terms which is due to earthquake, fire, flood, act of God, act of war, terrorism, epidemic, pandemic, or other causes beyond our reasonable control.
