CourseAssist Privacy Policy

Effective Date: Mar 25, 2024

Introduction

Welcome to CourseAssist, an AI-powered tutoring and discussion platform designed for university courses. We are committed to protecting your privacy. This Privacy Policy explains what information we collect, how we use and share it, and your rights regarding your personal data when you use CourseAssist. Our practices are designed to comply with United States laws and regulations, including the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) for student education records.

Information We Collect

Personal Information You Provide: When you create an account, we collect your name and email address. This information is used solely for setting up your user account and enrolling you in the appropriate course or discussion board. In some cases, an educator or institution may provide us with a roster of student names and emails to facilitate course enrollment, in which case we collect those student email addresses and course details to invite them to the platform. We do not require or collect sensitive personal data beyond what is necessary for these educational purposes.

Content and Communications: We also process any content you post on CourseAssist (such as questions, answers, or comments) as well as communications you send to us (for example, support requests or feedback). This user-generated content is stored to operate the discussion board service. Please note that posts you make in a course discussion may be visible to other authorized users in that course.

Information Collected Automatically: Like most online services, CourseAssist automatically collects certain technical data to ensure the platform functions securely and effectively. This includes information such as your IP address, browser type and language, device type or operating system, and timestamps of your visits or actions on the site. We use cookies or similar technologies to keep you logged in and to remember your preferences. This automatically collected usage data helps us troubleshoot issues, monitor performance, and improve our services. We do not use cookies for advertising purposes.

How We Use Your Information

CourseAssist uses your personal information only to provide and support the educational services you have requested. Specifically, we use the data we collect to:

Provide the Service: We use your name and email to create your account, enroll you in the correct course forums, and allow you to participate in course discussions and AI tutoring sessions.

Communicate with You: We may send administrative emails or in-platform notifications related to your course -- such as updates from instructors or responses to your posts, password resets, or changes to our service or policies. We will not send you marketing emails unrelated to CourseAssist’s educational services.

Ensure Integrity and Security: Information like IP addresses and logs are used to help us monitor for suspicious activity, prevent fraud, and protect the integrity and security of our platform. This helps us keep CourseAssist safe for all users.

Improve and Develop Services: We may use aggregated, anonymized usage data to understand how users engage with CourseAssist and to improve our features (for example, refining our AI tutor’s ability to answer questions). Any analytics are performed on de-identified data and no personal information is included in such analysis.

We do not use your personal data for any advertising or profiling outside the scope of delivering the CourseAssist service. In particular, your data is not used to train third-party AI models. CourseAssist does not sell or rent your personal information to third parties.

How We Share Information

We understand the importance of keeping your information private. CourseAssist only shares personal data in a few limited circumstances:

Service Providers: We use trusted third-party service providers to host and operate CourseAssist. In particular, our platform is built on Google Cloud Platform and Microsoft Azure infrastructure. These providers store data and manage user authentication on our behalf. They are contractually obligated to protect your information and cannot use it for any purpose other than providing services to CourseAssist. All data transmitted to or from CourseAssist is encrypted using TLS 1.3, and data stored on our servers is protected with AES-256 encryption to ensure confidentiality and integrity.

Academic Institutions or Instructors: If your use of CourseAssist is part of a course at an institution, certain data (like your name, email, and participation in the course site) may be visible to your instructor or university administrators for educational purposes. We do not disclose your personal information to other students except as you choose to share via your posts or profile.

Legal Compliance and Protection: We may disclose information if we are required to do so by law or a valid legal process (such as a subpoena or court order), or if we have a good faith belief that such disclosure is necessary to (a) comply with applicable law, (b) protect and defend our rights or property, or the rights, safety, or property of our users or others, (c) investigate or assist in preventing any violation of law or our Terms of Service, or (d) respond to an emergency that we believe in good faith requires us to disclose information to help prevent harm.

Outside of the scenarios above, we will not share your personal data with third parties. In particular, we do not share personal information with advertisers or other companies for their independent use.

Data Security

We take the security of your data seriously. CourseAssist implements industry-standard security measures to safeguard your personal information from unauthorized access or disclosure. All network communications are encrypted using Transport Layer Security (TLS) 1.3, and personal data is stored in encrypted form using AES-256 encryption. This means that both in transit and at rest, your data is protected with strong cryptographic protocols. Our systems are hosted on Google Cloud and Microsoft Azure, which maintain robust security practices and compliance certifications to protect data. We also apply strict access controls: only authorized personnel who need to support the service have access to user data, and they are bound by confidentiality obligations.

Despite our safeguards, no method of transmission over the Internet or electronic storage is 100% secure. We therefore cannot guarantee absolute security of information. However, we continuously review and enhance our security practices to meet or exceed industry standards.

FERPA and Educational Privacy Compliance

Because CourseAssist is used in educational settings, we comply with the U.S. Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) and similar student privacy laws. If CourseAssist is provided to you through a school or university, we handle student personal data as a “School Official” under FERPA, meaning we use student information only for authorized educational purposes and under the direction of the educational institution. We do not disclose personally identifiable information from student education records except as permitted by FERPA – for example, to school officials with legitimate educational interests, or with the student’s (or parent’s, where applicable) consent.

FERPA gives students (or parents of minors) important rights, including the right to access and request correction of their educational records, and to consent to most disclosures of their information. CourseAssist supports institutions in fulfilling these requirements. Any data that the school or instructor inputs into CourseAssist about students remains under the control of that educational institution, and we only use and disclose it in accordance with our agreements with the institution and applicable law.

Data Retention

We retain your personal data only as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes outlined in this Policy or as required by your educational institution or applicable laws. In general, this means we keep your account information and content while your account is active. If you are using CourseAssist as part of a course, we keep your data for the duration of the course and a reasonable period thereafter to allow instructors and students continued access, unless we are instructed otherwise by the institution. Once personal data is no longer needed for the purpose it was collected, we will delete it or anonymize it so it can no longer be associated with you, unless we are required by law to retain it for a longer period.

For example, if you request that we delete your account (see Your Rights and Choices below), we will remove or de-identify personal information associated with your account, except to the extent we need to retain certain information for legal compliance or internal legitimate purposes (such as audit, security, or fraud prevention) as permitted by law. Any retained data will remain subject to the protections of this Privacy Policy.

Your Rights and Choices

You have certain rights regarding your personal information:

Account Deletion: You have the right to request deletion of your CourseAssist account and associated personal data. If you wish to delete your account, you (or your institution, if they administer your account) can email us at support@courseassistai.com with your request. We will respond to deletion requests promptly and will remove your personal data from our active systems, barring any information we are required to retain by law. Please note that once deleted, your account cannot be recovered, and you will lose access to any content or course data associated with that account.

Opt-Out of Communications: We do not send marketing emails, but we may send essential service-related communications (for example, password resets or important course announcements). If at any time you receive non-essential email from us, you will be given a way to opt out of or unsubscribe from such communications. However, note that you cannot opt out of certain emails necessary for legal or security purposes (such as notices of policy updates).

If you have any questions about your rights or want to exercise any rights under applicable data protection laws, please contact us (see "Contact Us" section below). We will honor your rights to the extent required by law and in accordance with our institutional commitments. For users in certain states or countries, additional rights may apply under local laws, which we also honor when applicable.

Children’s Privacy

CourseAssist is intended for use by university students, educators, and adult learners. We do not knowingly collect personal information from anyone under the age of 13. If you are under 13, you are not permitted to use CourseAssist. If we learn that we have inadvertently collected personal data from a child under 13, we will take steps to delete that information promptly. Parents or legal guardians who believe that their child under 13 may have provided personal information to us should contact us so that we can delete the data.

For students under 18 who are using CourseAssist as part of a school-directed program (for example, dual enrollment or special pre-college programs), the educational institution is responsible for obtaining any necessary parental consents, in compliance with COPPA and similar laws. In all cases, our service is generally geared toward adult learners (age 18 and above).

Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this Privacy Policy from time to time to reflect changes in our practices or for other operational, legal, or regulatory reasons. If we make material changes, we will provide a prominent notice (e.g., by email to registered users or by posting a notice on our site) to inform you of updates. We will also update the "Effective Date" at the top of this Policy. We encourage you to review this Privacy Policy periodically for any changes. Your continued use of CourseAssist after any updates constitutes your acceptance of the revised policy, to the extent permitted by law.

1. Acceptance of Terms

Thank you for choosing CourseAssist. These Terms of Service ("Terms") govern your access to and use of the CourseAssist platform, including our AI tutor and discussion board services (“Service”). By accessing or using CourseAssist, you agree to be bound by these Terms. If you do not agree with any part of these Terms, you must not use the Service.

CourseAssist is an academic tool intended to facilitate learning and discussion. It is provided by CourseAssist, Inc. ("CourseAssist," "we," or "us"). In addition to these Terms, you agree to abide by our Privacy Policy, which describes how we handle your personal data. These Terms apply to all users of the Service, including students, educators, administrators, and visitors.

2. Eligibility

You represent that you are over the age of thirteen (13) years old in the United States, sixteen (16) years old in the European Union, or fourteen (14) years old if you live in Spain or South Korea) (the “Minimum Age”). If you are over the Minimum Age, but under the legal age of majority, your parent or legal guardian must consent to these Terms and CourseAssist’s Privacy Policy, and affirm that they accept these Terms on behalf of, and bear all legal and financial responsibility and liability for the actions of, any child between the Minimum Age and majority, and expressly ratify and confirm any acts of any such child and all users of the account.

3. User Accounts and Security

To access certain features of CourseAssist (such as posting in a course discussion or using the AI tutor), you will need to create an account. When registering, you agree to provide accurate, current, and complete information, including your name and a valid email address. You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your account credentials and for all activities that occur under your account. Please choose a strong password and do not share it with others.

You must notify us immediately at support@courseassistai.com if you suspect any unauthorized use of your account or any other breach of security. CourseAssist will not be liable for any loss or damage arising from your failure to safeguard your account information. You are responsible for ensuring that your use of the account complies with these Terms and all applicable laws.

4. Acceptable Use and User Conduct

We expect users to behave respectfully and lawfully. You agree that you will use CourseAssist only for its intended educational purposes and in accordance with these Terms. By using the Service, you agree not to engage in any of the following prohibited activities:

Illegal or Unauthorized Activities: Do not use the Service for any unlawful purpose or for any activity that violates any applicable federal, state, or local laws or regulations.

Harmful or Harassing Behavior: Do not post or share any content that is defamatory, abusive, threatening, harassing, hateful, or obscene, or that discriminates against or degrades any individual or group on the basis of race, ethnicity, religion, gender, sexual orientation, disability, or any other protected characteristic. Hate speech and harassment of any kind are strictly prohibited.

Privacy Violations: Do not share personal or private information of any person (e.g. phone numbers, addresses, student IDs) without their consent. This includes confidential information about other students or any other individual that is not yours to share.

Academic Dishonesty: Do not use CourseAssist in a manner that violates academic integrity policies. This means you must not use the platform for cheating, plagiarism, or any other form of academic misconduct. For example, you should not post exam answers or solicit others to complete assignments on your behalf. Instructors may monitor discussions for compliance with class rules.

Intellectual Property Infringement: Do not upload or share content that infringes someone else's copyright, trademark, or other intellectual property rights. You should only post materials that you have the right to share. If you quote or reference third-party content, give proper attribution when applicable.

System Abuse: Do not attempt to interfere with the normal operation of the Service or with other users' use of the Service. Prohibited conduct includes (but is not limited to) attempting to hack or gain unauthorized access to CourseAssist systems or accounts, transmitting viruses or malicious code, performing automated data scraping, or probing or testing the vulnerability of our network and security measures. Any attempt to disrupt or overload the Service (e.g., a denial-of-service attack) is strictly forbidden.

Engaging in any of the above conduct may result in suspension or termination of your account (see the Termination section below) and may also expose you to legal consequences. CourseAssist reserves the right to investigate and take appropriate legal action against anyone who, in our judgment, violates these rules, including reporting you to law enforcement authorities if your conduct is unlawful.

5. User Content and Intellectual Property

Ownership of Your Content: CourseAssist allows you and other users to post content, including questions, answers, comments, and other materials ("User Content"), in course forums or via the AI tutor interface. You retain any intellectual property rights you have in the content that you create and post on the Service. We do not claim ownership of your original contributions.

License to CourseAssist: By submitting or posting User Content on CourseAssist, you grant CourseAssist a worldwide, non-exclusive, royalty-free license to use, copy, reproduce, distribute, display, and adapt your content as needed to operate and provide the Service. This license allows us to, for example, display your questions to other students in your class, format your posts for different devices, or store your content on our servers. We will only use your content to support the service and for no other purposes. This license continues even if you stop using CourseAssist or your account is terminated, but we will cease to display your content publicly if your account is deleted (unless that content has been shared by others in a way that keeps it available).

No Unapproved Use: We will not use any of your User Content in public marketing materials or external promotions without your consent. Also, if your posted content contains personal data (for instance, if you mention your name or others' information in a post), our use of that personal data is governed by our Privacy Policy and applicable law. In short, we respect the privacy and ownership of your content.

User Content Responsibility: You are solely responsible for the content you post. This means you must ensure that your posts do not violate any laws or these Terms. We do not pre-screen user submissions, and we are not responsible for what users post on the platform. However, if we become aware of content that is inappropriate or violates these Terms, we reserve the right to remove or restrict access to it at our discretion. You understand that when you use the Service, you may be exposed to content from others that you find objectionable or inaccurate. CourseAssist does not endorse any user-posted content, and we make no warranties regarding the accuracy or reliability of any information shared by users.

Feedback: If you provide us with feedback or suggestions about CourseAssist, you agree that we can use, modify, and incorporate this feedback without any restriction or compensation to you. Any feedback you offer is entirely voluntary, and we appreciate it as it helps us improve our platform.

6. AI Tutoring and Educational Use

CourseAssist includes AI-driven tutoring features designed to assist with learning. While we strive to ensure the AI provides helpful and accurate explanations, it is important to understand the limitations of this technology. The AI tutor is provided for educational assistance purposes only. We do not guarantee that every answer or piece of information the AI provides is correct or up-to-date, and it should not be relied upon as a sole source of truth or as a substitute for professional educational guidance. Always use your own judgment and double-check critical information or answers with your instructor or other reliable resources.

You agree that when interacting with the AI tutor, you will still adhere to the Acceptable Use rules (for example, not asking the AI to produce disallowed content). The AI may sometimes generate responses that are incomplete or inappropriate; if you encounter such output, please refrain from using it in a harmful manner. CourseAssist is not liable for any actions you take or do not take based on information obtained from the AI tutor. The AI feature is continually improving, but it comes with no warranty of accuracy (as further outlined in the “Disclaimer of Warranties” section of these Terms). Use it as a learning aid, not as authoritative guidance for important decisions.

7. Privacy

Your use of CourseAssist is also governed by our Privacy Policy, which is hereby incorporated into these Terms. The Privacy Policy describes how we collect, use, and protect your personal information when you use our Service. By using CourseAssist, you consent to the collection and handling of information as described in the Privacy Policy. We encourage you to read it carefully. If you are using CourseAssist as part of a course, please also be mindful of protecting others’ privacy: for example, do not share personal details about other students without permission, as noted in our Acceptable Use section.

8. Proprietary Rights

Our Materials: Except for User Content, all content and materials available on CourseAssist (including software, text, graphics, logos, trademarks, and the overall design of the Service) are owned by CourseAssist or our licensors and are protected by intellectual property laws. We grant you a limited, revocable, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to use the Service for its intended purpose, subject to your compliance with these Terms. You may not copy, distribute, modify, or create derivative works from our proprietary content without our express authorization.

Trademarks: "CourseAssist" and our logos are trademarks of CourseAssist, Inc. You are not permitted to use these trademarks without our prior written consent, except as allowed by law.

9. Termination of Service

By You: You may stop using CourseAssist at any time. If you wish to terminate your account, you may contact us at support@courseassistai.com with a request to delete your account. Account deletion is further described in our Privacy Policy. Keep in mind that terminating your account will remove your access to the Service and may delete your user content (so make sure to save any information you need beforehand).

By Us: CourseAssist reserves the right to suspend or terminate your access to the Service (in whole or in part) at our discretion, with or without notice, if we believe you have violated these Terms or if you engage in behavior that is unlawful, abusive, or that jeopardizes the integrity of the platform or other users’ experience. We also reserve the right to remove any User Content that we determine violates these Terms or is otherwise objectionable, without liability to you.

Upon termination of your account for any reason, your right to use the Service will immediately cease. However, certain provisions of these Terms will survive termination. These include, for example, sections regarding User Content and Intellectual Property (to the extent of the licenses granted to us), Disclaimers, Limitation of Liability, Indemnification, and Governing Law, as well as any other clauses that by their nature should survive the termination of this agreement.

If your account was terminated by us due to a violation of these Terms, you are not allowed to create a new account to circumvent the termination.

10. Disclaimer of Warranties

CourseAssist is an innovative platform, but we need to make clear the limits of our responsibility to you. The Service is provided on an "AS IS" and "AS AVAILABLE" basis, without warranties of any kind, either express or implied. To the fullest extent permitted by law, CourseAssist and its affiliates, suppliers, and partners disclaim any and all warranties and representations, whether express, implied, or statutory, including (but not limited to) any warranties of merchantability, fitness for a particular purpose, title, quiet enjoyment, accuracy, or non-infringement. We do not guarantee that the Service will meet your requirements or that it will be available uninterrupted, secure, or error-free at all times. We make no warranty that the results obtained from the use of the Service (including any answers or guidance from the AI tutor) will be accurate or reliable.

You understand that use of the Service is at your own discretion and risk. You are solely responsible for any damage to your device or loss of data that may result from using the Service or downloading any material from it. CourseAssist does not warrant that the Service, or any content presented on the Service, is free of viruses or other harmful components.

Any advice or information, whether oral or written, obtained by you from CourseAssist or through the Service shall not create any warranty not expressly stated in these Terms. The educational content, including AI-generated assistance, is provided for your convenience and should be verified independently. If you have specific concerns (for example, medical, legal, or academic decisions), you should consult a qualified professional rather than relying solely on information from the Service.

11. Limitation of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by applicable law, in no event shall CourseAssist or its parent company, affiliates, suppliers, or their respective officers, employees, agents, or partners be liable to you for any indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or punitive damages, or any loss of profits, revenues, data, goodwill, or other intangible losses, arising out of or related to your access to or use of (or inability to access or use) the Service. This limitation of liability applies whether the claims are based on warranty, contract, tort (including negligence), or any other legal theory, even if CourseAssist has been advised of the possibility of such damages.

In particular, CourseAssist will not be liable for any injury, loss, or damage incurred as a result of (a) any errors or omissions in any content (including user content or AI-provided information) on the platform, (b) any unauthorized access to or use of our servers and/or any personal information stored therein, (c) any interruption or cessation of transmission to or from the Service, or (d) any bugs, viruses, Trojan horses, or the like that may be transmitted through the Service by any third party. We shall not be responsible for the offensive, illegal, or inappropriate conduct of any user or third party on the Service.

Some jurisdictions do not allow the exclusion of certain warranties or the limitation of liability for incidental or consequential damages, which means that some of the above limitations may not apply to you. In those jurisdictions, CourseAssist's liability will be limited to the greatest extent permitted by law.

12. Indemnification

You agree to indemnify, defend, and hold harmless CourseAssist, its parent company, affiliates, and their respective officers, directors, employees, and agents, from and against any and all third-party claims, liabilities, damages, losses, or expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and costs) arising out of or in any way connected with: (a) your access to or use of the Service; (b) your User Content or any content you provide; (c) your violation of these Terms; or (d) your violation of any applicable law or rights of another party. We reserve the right, at our own expense, to assume the exclusive defense and control of any matter otherwise subject to indemnification by you (in which case you agree to cooperate with our defense of such claim). This indemnification obligation will survive the termination of your relationship with CourseAssist.

13. Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

Governing Law: These Terms and any action related to them are governed by the laws of the State of California, USA, without regard to its conflict of laws principles. By using the Service, you agree that the laws of California will govern any dispute arising between you and CourseAssist in connection with these Terms or the Service.

Jurisdiction and Venue: In the event of any disputes or claims between us arising out of or related to the Service or these Terms that are not subject to arbitration or cannot be resolved informally, you agree that such disputes will be litigated exclusively in the state or federal courts located in California, and you consent to personal jurisdiction in those courts. We and you waive any objection to venue in those courts, including arguments that it is an inconvenient forum.

Dispute Resolution; No Class Actions: Any dispute will be handled on an individual basis. To the fullest extent permitted by law, you agree not to bring or participate in a class, consolidated, or representative action against us.

14. Miscellaneous

Changes to Terms: CourseAssist may modify these Terms from time to time. If we make material changes, we will notify users (for example, by email or by posting an update notice on the site) prior to the changes taking effect. The updated Terms will be indicated by an updated effective date at the top. By continuing to use the Service after any revisions become effective, you agree to be bound by the updated Terms. If you do not agree to the new terms, please stop using the Service.

Entire Agreement: These Terms, together with the Privacy Policy and any other legal notices we have published on the Service, constitute the entire agreement between you and CourseAssist regarding your use of the Service. They supersede any prior agreements or communications between you and us related to the Service. Any additional or different terms in any order, written or oral communication from you are void.

Severability: If any provision of these Terms is held to be invalid or unenforceable by a court of competent jurisdiction, that provision will be enforced to the maximum extent permissible and the remaining provisions of these Terms will remain in full force and effect. Our failure to enforce any right or provision of these Terms will not be considered a waiver of those rights.

Assignment: You may not assign or transfer these Terms (or any of your rights or obligations under them) without our prior written consent. We may freely assign these Terms, in whole or in part, to a third party as part of a merger, acquisition, sale of assets, or by operation of law, or otherwise. These Terms will bind and inure to the benefit of the respective successors and permitted assigns of the parties.

No Waiver: Our failure to enforce any provision of these Terms will not be deemed a waiver of our right to enforce it in the future. Any waiver of any provision of these Terms will be effective only if in writing and signed by an authorized representative of CourseAssist.

Contact Information: If you have any questions about these Terms or need to contact us for any reason, please email us at support@courseassistai.com. You can also refer to our Privacy Policy for additional contact information and support channels.

Thank you for using CourseAssist. We hope our platform helps you in your educational journey by providing a safe and productive environment for learning and discussion. Happy learning!
