Cognii

Privacy terms and statements | Source archive

Retrieved 10 October 2026

Policy and supporting documents captured

Public documents captured from the competitor website and its linked legal pages. Vendor statements are preserved as published, without independent certification.

About these copies

Web pages are preserved as searchable text snapshots, with their headings and paragraph order retained. Navigation and non-content page elements may be omitted. These are copies of vendor statements, not a GRADIAS assessment of compliance. Source links and any original downloadable files are listed below. Content is retained in its original language.

Sources

01. Privacy Policy

02. Terms of Use

Competitor website

01 | Privacy Policy

https://www.cognii.com/privacy-policy

Webpage text snapshot | Retrieved 10 October 2026

Privacy Policy

Cognii, Inc. (“Cognii,” “we,” or “us”) understands that privacy is important to our online visitors to our website (“You” or “Visitors”). This privacy policy describes our collection and use of personal information collected from visitors to our websites located at cognii.com, its subdomains, and through our online service (collectively, our “Service”) and the steps we take to protect your data.

Capitalized terms that are not defined in this Privacy Policy have the meaning given them in our Terms of Use.

1. How we collect and use information

We collect the following types of information:

Information you provide to us directly: We ask for certain types of personal information when a teacher, professor or similar instructor (“Teacher”) or a representative acting on behalf of a school, university, or an organization (“School”) corresponds with us, requests a demo, signs up to receive newsletters or registers on our Website; including a name, school name, school district, school email address and/or account name and password, billing information, and phone number. We may also retain information if a user sends us a message, posts content to our website, interacts with us on social media (e.g., Facebook, Twitter), logs in to our site using a third party authentication service (e.g., Google, Facebook, Twitter), or responds to emails or surveys.

Once a School or Teacher begins using the Service, this information we collect may be combined with records relating to the School’s or Teacher’s use of our Service. If you are a student whose School or Teacher has enrolled in our Service (“Student”), we may collect your email address and password, which may be combined with information about you that we receive from the School (“Student Data”). We use the personal information we collect to operate, maintain, and provide the features and functionality of the Service, to analyze our Service offerings and functionality, and to communicate with our Teachers, Schools, Students and website visitors.

Information collected through technology: We and our third party partners automatically collect certain types of usage information when visitors view our website. We may use cookies or similar technologies (such as web beacons, tags and scripts) to help us uniquely identify your browser and to let Cognii help you log in faster and enhance your navigation through the Service. A cookie may also convey information to us about how you use the Service (e.g., the pages you view, the links you click and other actions you take on the Service), and allow us to track your usage of the Service over time. We may also collect log file information from your browser or mobile device each time you access the Service. Log file information may include anonymous information such as your web request, Internet Protocol (“IP”) address, browser type, information about your mobile device, number of clicks and how you interact with links on the Service, pages viewed, and other such information. We may employ clear gifs (also known as web beacons) which are used to anonymously track the online usage patterns of our Users. In addition, we may also use clear gifs in HTML-based emails sent to track which emails are opened and which links are clicked by recipients. The information allows for more accurate reporting and improvement of the Service. We may also collect analytics data, or use third-party analytics tools, to help us measure traffic and usage trends for the Service.

We do not allow third party advertising networks to collect information about the users of our Site or Service. We use or may use the data collected through cookies or other tracking technologies to: (a) remember information so that a user will not have to re-enter it during subsequent visits; (b) provide custom, personalized content and information; (c) provide and monitor the effectiveness of our Service; (d) monitor aggregate metrics such as total number of visitors, traffic, and usage on our website and our Service; (e) diagnose or fix technology problems; and (f) help users efficiently access information after signing in.

We will use personal information only in ways that are compatible with the purposes for which it was collected or subsequently authorized by the individual. We will take reasonable steps to ensure that personal information is relevant to its intended use, accurate, complete, and current.

2. How we share your information

Cognii only shares the personally identifiable information collected on our website in a few limited circumstances, described below. Cognii remains liable to you for any transfer of information to such third parties (also known as ‘onward transfer’).

We may share information with third party service providers who perform services on our behalf (e.g. accountants, mailing houses), but strictly for the purpose of carrying out their work for us. We only share data with third parties that adhere to security and data retention policies which are consistent with those described here.

We may share aggregate or anonymous data (including personal data that has been stripped of personally identifying characteristics) with third parties as part of providing our Service.

If you are over 18 and a student at a higher education institution, you may be able to consent to share certain kinds of your data with other Students or third parties, such as recruiters or prospective employers. Cognii will not share your personally identifiable data with these third parties without your explicit consent.

We may permit our users to share information with one another through our social forums and messaging functions. When a user voluntarily posts content to the public areas of our Service, the user name will be disclosed to other users. We do not control how much personal information a user voluntarily shares through these user content features on our Service.

We may be required to share information with law enforcement or other third parties when compelled to do so by court order or other legal process, to comply with statutes or regulations, to enforce our Terms of Use, or if we believe in good faith that the disclosure is necessary to protect the rights, property or personal safety of our visitors.

We may share information relating to our Services, including your personal information, in connection with a company transaction, such as a merger, sale of company assets or shares, reorganization, financing, change of control or acquisition of all or a portion of our business by another company or third party, or in the event of bankruptcy or related or similar proceedings, provided that the third party has agreed to data privacy standards no less stringent than those set forth in this policy.

3. How we store and protect your information

Storage and processing: Your information collected through the Service may be stored and processed in the United States or any other country in which Cognii or its subsidiaries, affiliates or service providers maintain facilities. If you use our Service, you consent to have your data transferred to the United States or anywhere else Cognii maintains facilities.

Keeping information safe: Cognii maintains strict administrative, technical and physical procedures to protect information stored in our servers, which are located in the United States. We use industry-standard Secure Socket Layer (SSL) encryption technology to safeguard the account registration process and sign-up information. Other security safeguards include but are not limited to data encryption, firewalls, and limiting access to personal data to employees who require it to perform their job functions.

We retain your data on the Cognii service only as long as necessary to deliver our services. Data associated with a given account is retained until the account owner or an institution, on behalf of the account owner, submits a deletion request. When a deletion request is made for data in which multiple Cognii users have legitimate educational interest, data deletion will occur only after such users no longer need access for educational purposes. Upon deletion, data is retained in our backups for a period of one (1) year. Any data retention terms specified in an agreement Cognii holds with an individual institution takes precedence over those outlined here.

4. Your choices about your information

Account information and settings: You may update or modify your account information by signing into your account. Schools, Teachers and other website visitors can opt-out of receiving promotional email from us by clicking on the “unsubscribe” feature at the bottom of each email. You cannot unsubscribe from Service-related messaging.

If you have any questions about reviewing, modifying or deleting your account information, contact us directly.

Deleting or disabling cookies: You may be able to disallow cookies to be set on your browser. Please look for instructions on how to delete or disable cookies and other tracking/recording tools on your browser’s technical settings. You may not be able to delete or disable cookies on certain mobile devices and/or certain browsers. For more information on cookies, visit www.allaboutcookies.org. Remember that disabling cookies may disable many of the features available on the Service, so we recommend you leave cookies enabled.

Under GDPR, if you are an EU resident, you may request that we:

provide access to and/or a copy of certain information we hold about you

update information which is out of date or incorrect

delete certain information which we are holding about you restrict the way that we process and disclose certain of your information transfer your information to a third-party provider of services

revoke your consent for the processing of your information

We will consider all requests and provide our response within the time period stated by applicable law. If Cognii is acting as a Data Controller, we will respond directly to you (but may ask for additional information necessary to confirm your identity). If Cognii is acting as a Data Processor, we will recommend that you contact your teacher or your school. In most instances, Cognii is a Data Controller when it collects personal data as part of its marketing activities, and is a Data Processor when it provides services to students, teachers, and schools. Please note, however, that certain information may be exempt from such requests in some circumstances, which may include if we need to keep processing your information for our legitimate interests or to comply with a legal obligation. To the extent that you make such a request, we may require certain information to help verify your request and prevent fraudulent information and removal requests.

5. Children’s privacy

We strive to ensure that our Service does not offend people of any age. However, our Service is not intended for children or minors under the age of thirteen years without the permission of a parent or guardian. If you believe that a child has submitted personal information on or through our Service without the consent and supervision of a parent or guardian, please contact us so that we can take appropriate actions.

6. Data collected during the course of providing services to schools

Cognii provides a Service designed to assist Schools, Teachers and other educational partners to improve student learning outcomes. In some circumstances, Cognii may receive personally identifiable information about students (“Student Data”) from the School or Teacher in the course of providing our Service. For example, a Teacher will provide a class roster, email addresses of all students in the class, as well as coursework data that may be linked to a particular student. All Student Data that we are provided by the Teacher, if any, is owned and controlled by the School and the Teacher. We consider Student Data to be strictly confidential and we have physical, administrative and technical security protections in place to protect such data. We do not use personally identifiable Student Data for any purpose other than to provide the services to the School or Teacher, and we do not share personally identifiable Student Data with any third party except as authorized or required by the School, Teacher or the Student. We may collect, analyze, and share anonymized or aggregated data or data derived from Student Data for certain purposes, but only if the disclosure of such data could not reasonably identify a specific individual or specific School. Our collection and use of Student Data provided by a Teacher or School is governed by our Terms of Service and by the provisions of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

Student Data is provided and controlled by the School. If you are a student or the parent or guardian of a student and have questions about reviewing, modifying, or deleting personal information of a student, please contact your school directly.

7. Links to other websites and services

From time to time, we may provide links to third parties from our Service. We are not responsible for the practices employed by websites, applications or services linked to or from our Service. We recommend that you review the privacy policies of third party sites or services before providing any information to them.

8. Enforcement of this Policy

Cognii provides periodic training for its employees involved in the collection and dissemination of Student Data. In addition, Cognii's internal policies and procedures provide for disciplinary action if our employees fail to follow this Privacy Policy. We periodically self-assess and review these internal policies and procedures to review compliance.

9. Dispute Resolution

Cognii commits to resolving complaints about your privacy and our collection or use of your personal information and will respond to such complaints within forty-five days.

The United States Federal Trade Commission is the statutory body that has jurisdiction to hear any claims against Cognii regarding possible unfair or deceptive practices and violations of laws or regulations governing privacy.

10. How to contact us

If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy or the Service, please contact us at contact@cognii.com.

Cognii, Inc.

169 11th St, Ofc #12, San Francisco, CA 94103

11. Changes to our privacy policy

Cognii may modify or update this Privacy Policy from time to time so you should review this page periodically. When we change the policy in a material manner we will let you know via email and update the 'last modified' date at the bottom of this page.

This privacy policy was last modified on March 20, 2019.

At Cognii, our mission is to improve the quality and affordability of education with the help of advanced technologies.

Contact us

San Francisco, CA

info@cognii.com

Copyright © 2013-2025 Cognii, Inc. | Terms of Use | Privacy Policy

02 | Terms of Use

https://www.cognii.com/terms-of-service

Webpage text snapshot | Retrieved 10 October 2026

Terms of Use

Welcome to the Cognii website ("Site"), which is owned by Cognii, Inc.

Use of this website is offered to you on your acceptance of these Terms of Use, our Privacy Policy, and other notices posted on this website. Your use of this website or any content presented in any areas of the website indicates your acknowledgment and agreement to these Terms of Use, our Privacy Policy, and other notices posted on this website and constitute a legal agreement ("Agreement") between you and Cognii, Inc.

By using/visiting the Site, you agree to be bound by this Agreement. You are only authorized to access this Site or to use the materials and services contained in the Site if you agree to abide by all applicable laws and to this Agreement.

Please read this Agreement carefully and if you do not agree with it, you should leave this Site immediately. Any questions or comments regarding, or problems with, this Site should be sent to the Site Administrator at webadmin@cognii.com.

Cognii reserves the right to modify or amend this Agreement without notice at any time, and such modification will be effective upon posting by Cognii on the Site. You agree to be bound by any changes to this Agreement when you use the Site after any such modification is posted. It is therefore important that you read this page regularly to ensure you are updated as to any changes.

Copyright, Access and Use

All materials contained in this Site are protected by international copyright laws and must only be used for personal, non-commercial purposes.

The reproduction, duplication, distribution (including by way of email, facsimile, or other electronic means), publication, modification, copying, or transmission of material from this Site is strictly prohibited unless you have obtained the prior written consent of Cognii. This prohibition includes, without limitation, any text, graphics, logos, photographs, audio, or video material available on this Site. The use of materials from this Site on any other web site or networked computer environment is similarly prohibited. Requests for permission to reproduce or distribute materials found on this Site can be made by email at contact@cognii.com.

If Cognii has provided links or pointers to other web sites, no inference or assumption should be made and no representation should be implied that Cognii is connected with, operates, or controls these web sites.

Posted Content

You agree that any messages, posts, or other material whatsoever posted by you to the public areas of the Site ("Content") becomes the property of Cognii and may be used, copied, sublicensed, adapted, transmitted, translated, distributed, publicly performed, displayed, or deleted as Cognii sees fit. For this reason, we ask that you not post any Content that you do not wish to license to us, including any photographs, videos, confidential information, or product ideas. You represent and warrant that: (1) you own the Content posted by you on the Site, (2) your Content does not violate the privacy rights, publicity rights, copyright rights, intellectual property rights, or any other rights of any person, and (3) the posting of your Content on the Site does not result in a breach of any contract between you and a third party. You agree to pay for all royalties, fees, and any other monies owing any person by reason of any Content you post on the site.

Cognii does not endorse and has no control over the Content submitted by others to the Site. Content submitted to the Site is not necessarily reviewed by Cognii prior to posting and does not necessarily reflect the opinions or policies of Cognii. Cognii makes no warranties, express or implied, as to such Content or its accuracy and reliability. Nonetheless, Cognii reserves the right to prevent you from submitting Content to the Site and to edit, restrict, or remove such Content for any reason at any time.

Cognii assumes no responsibility for actively monitoring the Site for inappropriate Content. If, at any time Cognii chooses, at its sole discretion, to monitor the Site, Cognii nonetheless assumes no responsibility for the Content, no obligation to modify or remove any inappropriate Content, and no responsibility for the conduct of the user submitting any Content.

You agree that Cognii accepts no liability whatsoever if it determines to prevent your Content from being submitted or if it edits, restricts, or removes your Content. You also agree to permit any other user of this Site to access, view, store, or reproduce the material for that other user's personal use and not to restrict or inhibit the use of the Site by any other person. You agree to release Cognii, together with its respective employees, agents, officers, directors, and shareholders, from any and all liability and obligations whatsoever in connection with or arising from your use of the Site. If at any time you are not happy with the Site or object to any material within the Site, your sole remedy is to cease using it.

Copyright Infringement

If you believe that any material contained in this Site infringes your copyright, you should notify Cognii of your copyright infringement claim to this Site's Designated Agent who is:

Cognii, Inc.

169 11th St, San Francisco, CA 94103

Email: webadmin@cognii.com

Cognii will review notices of alleged infringement which it receives and will take appropriate action as required by the Digital Millennium Copyright Act (DMCA) and other applicable intellectual property laws.

Disclaimer of Liability and Warranties

You agree that you use this Site and rely on material/Content contained in this Site at your own risk. The Site, and all materials/Content in this Site, are provided "as is" and, to the fullest extent permitted by law, are provided without warranties of any kind either express or implied. This means, without limitation, that Cognii does not warrant that the Site is fit for any particular purpose; that the functions contained in the materials in the Site will be uninterrupted; that defects will be corrected; that the Site is free of viruses and other harmful components or that the Site is accurate, error free or reliable.

You acknowledge that Cognii and its employees, agents, directors, officers, and shareholders, are not liable for any delays, inaccuracies, failures, errors, omissions, interruptions, deletions, defects, viruses, communication line failures, or for the theft, destruction, damage, or unauthorized access to your computer system or network.

You acknowledge that Cognii is not liable for any defamatory, offensive, or illegal conduct or material found in connection with this Site, including such conduct or material transmitted by any means by any other person.

You acknowledge that Cognii is not liable for any damages, including, without limitation, direct, incidental, special, consequential, or punitive damages, in connection with or arising from your use or from your inability to use the Site.

You agree to defend, indemnify and hold harmless Cognii and its employees, agents, directors, officers, and shareholders from and against all the liabilities, claims, damages, and expenses (including reasonable attorney's fees and costs) arising out of your use of this Site; your failure to use the Site; your breach or alleged breach of this Agreement, or your breach or alleged breach of the copyright, proprietary or other rights of third parties.

Termination

Cognii reserves the right to immediately terminate your use of, or access to, this Site at any time if Cognii decides at its sole discretion that you have breached this Agreement or any relevant law, rule, or regulation or you have engaged in conduct that Cognii considers to be inappropriate or unacceptable.

Other

This Agreement operates to the fullest extent permissible by law. If any provision of this Agreement is unlawful, void, or unenforceable, that provision is deemed severable from this Agreement and does not affect the validity and enforceability of any remaining provisions.

This Agreement is governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of California and United States without giving effect to any principles of conflicts of law. You agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of the State of California for resolution of any dispute, action, or proceeding arising in connection with this Agreement or your use or non-use of the Site, and you further irrevocably waive any right you may have to trial by jury in any such dispute, action, or proceeding.

At Cognii, our mission is to improve the quality and affordability of education with the help of advanced technologies.

Contact us

San Francisco, CA

info@cognii.com

Copyright © 2013-2025 Cognii, Inc. | Terms of Use | Privacy Policy