In this Privacy Notice, we also explain how we use the Personal Information we collect from and about students when they engage with Kahoot! in the classroom through the School Services. We use such Personal Information solely as a service provider or "processor" to our school and school district customers.

As a trusted provider of tools that help teachers and schools make learning awesome for students, Kahoot! is particularly concerned about the collection and use of students' Personal Information. Kahoot! does not collect, retain, use or share students' Personal Information, except as necessary for authorized school purposes, at the direction of our school and school district customers and pursuant to our agreements with them. Without limitation, this means that:

We retain students' Personal Information only for as long as permitted by our agreements with our school or school district customers.

We support our school customers in providing parents and eligible students with access to their Personal Information and in fulfilling other requests that parents and eligible students may make, such as to request deletion of students' Personal Information or to refuse its further collection or use. If you are, or your Child is, a student and you have questions or wish to exercise any rights that may be available to you or your Child under applicable law, please contact your school.

Kahoot! performs text-to-speech conversion so users can have kahoot questions and answers read aloud in synthesized speech.

This feature is available in the Kahoot! mobile app for all users.

Key principles for usage of AI in Kahoot!

Kahoot! uses public AI-models from third party vendors and does not build its own large language models (LLMs). No data from the Kahoot! platform is used to train or refine any models.

Kahoots!'s main partner and LLM provider for its AI features is Microsoft Azure based in Europe. Kahoot! has integrated with Microsoft through our backend to avoid unknown information from the browser or client being sent to Microsoft.

Data inserted into AI features in Kahoot! is sent to Microsoft for processing and to generate AI output. The information Kahoot! sends to the Microsoft APIs is what we call the prompt. Kahoot! does not knowingly provide any user information, personal data or previous prompts to Microsoft in providing its AI features and advises users against providing the same in prompts or upload files.

The processing of the information sent by Kahoot! to Microsoft is performed according to Microsoft's standard terms and conditions, which may be found here.

Microsoft describes how it processes, used and stores the data it receives here:

https://learn.microsoft.com/en-us/legal/cognitive-services/openai/data-privacy

In order to ensure high quality content on our platform, Kahoot! has elected not to opt out of Azure OpenAI Abuse Monitoring. More info on how Microsoft performs abuse monitoring can be found here: https://learn.microsoft.com/en-us/azure/ai-services/openai/concepts/abuse-monitoring

Without warranting the content of the information, Kahoot! assumes that this information is correct and accurate also regarding customer data transferred by Kahoot! to Microsoft for processing:

Important

Your prompts (inputs) and completions (outputs), your embeddings, and your training data:

are NOT available to other customers.

are NOT available to OpenAI.

are NOT used to improve OpenAI models.

are NOT used to improve Microsoft or 3rd party product services.

are NOT used for automatically improving Azure OpenAI models for your use in your resource (The models are stateless, unless you explicitly fine-tune models with your training data).

Your fine-tuned Azure OpenAI models are available exclusively for your use.

The Azure OpenAI Service is fully controlled by Microsoft. Microsoft hosts the OpenAI models in Microsoft's Azure environment and the Service does NOT interact with any other services operated by OpenAI (e.g., ChatGPT or the OpenAI API).

Beta features can change or evolve at any time. You may experience bugs or performance issues while using such features. Kahoot! reserves the right to cap or disable beta feature usage at any time, including due to high demand.

A few features, as noted below, use models from partners other than Microsoft. The principles set forth above in Important Limitations apply equally to our integrations with these other LLM providers.

Important considerations for users

While AI text-generation services can save you a lot of time, they sometimes provide inaccurate or untrue responses. Please carefully review any AI-generated content for accuracy before using it.

Please note that you as the author of a kahoot utilizing AI-Question generator or PDF to Story/kahoot remain responsible for the accuracy and suitability of the content contained therein, as well as its compliance with Kahoot!'s terms and policies located in our Trust Center, including our Editorial Guidelines and Acceptable Use Policy.

You should not:

include any personal data in your use of the AI features, such as within the search field, AI-assisted generator prompt or in PDFs you upload include or upload any offensive or infringing material, confidential information or other content violating our Acceptable Use Policy.

Data processing and technical information

Key technical information related to the features:

AI-assisted creator

The models currently used for AI assisted creator are Microsoft Azure OpenAI GPT 3.5x & 4x and 5x, Google's Gemini 2.5 Pro, Apple's Foundation Model, and Perplexity.ai. The prompt for this feature permits a user to enter up to 300 characters of text to better ensure a proposed set of relevant questions and answer alternatives. Users may also provide a URL to a web page, a Wikipedia page or a PDF from the text on the page/video/PDF is used as a prompt to generate AI-assisted kahoots.

The reason for using several different models is the lack of capacity of one model to cover the loads at any time in the desired locations.

More information about Apple: On supported iOS devices, the user can select to use local models by Apple to generate the content. In these cases Kahoot! uses Apple's Foundation Models framework directly on the iPhone or iPad. This makes it possible to generate quizzes based on scanned notes or documents, or to rewrite short study prompts and summaries, with all processing handled locally on the device. Availability depends on device capability and iOS version.

More information about Perplexity: Perplexity.ai is only available as part of paid plans for teachers, educational institutions, and businesses, and only processes the data input by the user. Perplexity processes the user's input prompt in order to enrich and improve it for Microsoft Azure OpenAI to generate the output.

The AI-assisted creator also includes generation of images as described in a separate chapter below.

Scan notes (iOS and Android)

For users on iOS, Kahoot! uses the VisionKit framework to let users scan notes and documents directly into the app. Text recognition happens on the device through Apple's system framework.

For users on Android, Kahoot! uses Google's ML Kit for text recognition. Processing is handled by Google's framework on the device to extract text from scanned notes and documents.

The extracted text from the images is used to run the feature named "AI-assisted creator" as described above to create the kahoot for the user.

AI-assisted translator (iOS)

Kahoot! uses the built-in Translation framework provided by iOS to translate the text of a selected kahoot into the language chosen by the user. Translation is handled by Apple's system framework, and may run either on the device or online depending on the settings in the Translate app.

Story text enhancer

The models currently used for Story text enhancer are “GPT 4o” and “Google MediaAPI”. Kahoot! uses the Google MediaAPI to detect language of a text and provide image classification. The Google MediaAPI is a component hosted by Kahoot that does not share data with Google or any other actor. The “GPT 4o”-model is used to produce proposals to adjust the inputted text according to the enhancement selected by the user. The information processed by Kahoot!’s sub processor(s) is the text entered by the user.

Search

The model currently used for Search is “ada-Embedding-002”. Kahoot! uses the model to generate an embedding for all public kahoots and search strings entered by users. The embeddings are then used to find the most relevant search results for the user. Only kahoots designated as public by a user are processed by this feature. The information processed by Microsoft is the text contained in public kahoots and users’ search strings.

Brainstorm clustering of responses

The model currently used for Brainstorm clustering of responses is “paraphrase-multilingual-MiniLM-L12-v2”. Kahoot! uses the model to identify user responses that are equal or similar and group them together for improved organization. The model is hosted by Kahoot! and no data is provided to other parties through this feature. The information processed is the text entered by participants during a brainstorm activity.

PDF to Story/kahoot

The models currently used for PDF to Story/kahoot are “GPT 4o”, “GPT 4o mini” and “GPT-35-turbo-16k”. PDFs provided by users are rendered in the user’s browser and never shared or stored by Kahoot! or its partners. Text in a PDF will be processed by Microsoft to propose content for a Kahoot! Story or to create suggested questions and answers for a kahoot. The text is not stored by Kahoot! or made available to other users.

Read Aloud

The Kahoot! mobile app’s Read Aloud feature uses Azure Cognitive Services to convert titles, questions, and answers into high-quality speech. To provide the best audio experience, we share the kahoot’s text and language settings with Microsoft, ensuring the app selects the most natural voice from the library.

Image Generation

The models currently used for Image Generation are “DALL·E 3.” on Azure OpenAI and Gemini from Google. Kahoot! uses these models to generate images based on user-provided prompts to illustrate their kahoots. The information processed by Microsoft includes the text entered by the user as the image description.

Additional information

An organization can decide to limit access to the AI features for different groups of users, like admins, members and limited members. The default is that all user groups can get the benefit of AI-powered features to save time on creating content.

Should you have any questions regarding these features, please contact our support team here.

Details about our processing of student's personal data, that we collect as a processor or ´school official´on the school or teacher´s behalf, can be found in our Privacy Notice, see in particular section 2.2.

2. Responsible use and conduct

2.1 General

You agree to only use the Kahoot! Services and Resources for the purposes intended and as permitted by the Agreement and in accordance with applicable laws. If you use the Kahoot! Services in breach of the Agreement or applicable laws, we may terminate your account and/or suspend your use of the Kahoot! Services. You are responsible for maintaining the confidentiality of your account and any non-public authentication credentials associated with your use of the Kahoot! Services. You must promptly notify our customer support team about any possible misuse of your accounts, authentication credentials or any security incident related to the Kahoot! Services.

You represent and warrant that information you provide when registering for an account is accurate and you shall not misrepresent personal information or otherwise be untruthful about your identity in connection with your use of the Services. Kahoot! reserves all rights to take legal action against anyone who misrepresents personal information or is otherwise untruthful about their identity in connection with their use of the Services. Notwithstanding the foregoing, you acknowledge that Kahoot! cannot guarantee the accuracy of any information submitted by any user or the identity of any user who chooses to use the Services. We are not obliged to verify the identity of any user.

2.2 Administrator assumption of control

If you use an email address provided by an Organization you are affiliated with (e.g. an employer or a school) to order the Kahoot! Service, you represent that you have authority to use that Organization's domain to sign up for a Service Plan in your capacity as a member of that Organization. The Organization, as the owner of the domain associated with your email address, may assume control over and manage your use of the Kahoot! Services. In such a case, your Organization's designated Administrator may (i) control and administer your account, including modifying and terminating your access and (ii) access and process your data, including the contents of your communications and files. If your Organization is not administering your use of the Kahoot! Service or managing such tenants, direct your data subject requests and privacy inquiries to Kahoot! by contacting us at privacy@kahoot.com.

2.3 Use of recommender systems (Art. 27 DSA)

Kahoot! uses automated systems (known as 'recommender systems') to suggest or prioritize specific information for individual users, based on data about the user that is held by Kahoot!. These systems are used on different parts of our platform for a range of purposes, including the recommendation of relevant content for users, and targeted on-platform promotional content.

Different systems use different types of user data to determine what information is relevant for an individual user. These include:

The user's age, if provided by the user at account creation. This helps us to provide users with age-appropriate content and to target certain content at particular age groups.

The country in which the user created their account. This helps us to provide users with content that is relevant to their location and to target certain content at particular countries or regions.

The language selected by the user on the platform. This helps us to provide users with content in their preferred language. Users are able to change their selected language in their account settings or browser.

The user's primary reason for using Kahoot!, based on a number of 'primary usage' categories determined at account creation – for example, whether the user primarily uses Kahoot! for business purposes, social purposes, or educational purposes (and if so, whether the user is a teacher or a student, and which level of education they are at). This helps us to provide users with content that is relevant to their use of Kahoot!. Users with Teacher, Higher Education or Social (Home) accounts are able to change their 'primary usage' category by changing their account type.

Breach of contract under s.72(1) OSA

If you are a Kahoot! user located in the UK, you have the right to bring a claim for breach of contract if we take down or restrict access to content that you generate, upload or share on Kahoot!, or if we suspend or ban you from Kahoot!, and we do so in breach of these Terms or other documents forming part of our Agreement with you.

You promise that your registration information, payment details (if you have signed up for a paid Service Plan subscription) and any other information that you submit to us are true, accurate, and complete, and you agree to keep it that way at all times. If you have provided incorrect or inaccurate information, you should return to the log-in screen or correct such information in your account settings. You promise that no other person shall be allowed to use or access your account, or in any other way make use of the rights conferred to you pursuant to the Agreement.

5.2 Payments and Subscription Periods

If you do not wish to renew your Subscription Period for a Paid Service Plan or Content Subscriptions, you are entitled to cancel your Paid Service Plan and/or Content Subscriptions before the end of your current Subscription Period. If you are a consumer in Norway, we will notify you of your right to cancellation every sixth month during your Subscription Period, either by email to your registered email account, in-App or in-Service notifications. You can cancel by notifying customer service here. Any cancellation will become effective on the first day after the last day of your current Subscription Period. Service you subscribe to (if available).

5.5 Upgrades and downgrades

You may at any time upgrade or downgrade your Paid Service Plan subscription to a different Paid Service Plan. If you downgrade your subscription to a lower tier Service Plan, the downgrade will take effect on the day after the last day of the current Subscription Period. If you upgrade your subscription to a higher tier Service Plan, the upgrade will take effect immediately subject to payment of the applicable upgrade fee.

Upon upgrading, your Paid Service Plan will be subject to the new subscription term. You will be credited for any remaining term under your previous Paid Service Plan.

Your continued use of the Kahoot! Services constitute your acceptance of the price change. If you do not agree with the price changes, you have the right to reject the change by cancelling your subscription prior to your next Subscription Period renewal.

If you are a Consumer in Norway Kahoot! will notify you of a price change within reasonable time before it becomes effective, either by email to your registered email account, or by in-App or in-Service notifications. If the price change exceeds the annual change of the consumer price index in Norway, you may terminate the Agreement with effect from when the price change starts to run.

We do not provide any refunds if the price for a Paid Service Plan or Content Subscription drops, or if we offer subsequent promotional pricing or change the content or features of a Service Plan.

Kahoot! may decide to change or replace our Service Plans. If the Service Plan you have subscribed for is changed or replaced, your subscription will automatically be for the Service Plan that corresponds with the pricing of your original plan unless you chose to upgrade your subscription.

5.7 Trials

We may, at our own sole discretion, offer you a Trial. We reserve the right to revoke the Trial and put your account on hold in the event that we determine that you are not eligible. Separate terms and conditions, including restrictions on available features or areas of use, may apply when using a Kahoot! Service under a Trial.

For some Trials, we'll require you to provide your payment details to start the Trial. In such cases, your Trial will automatically be converted to a paid subscription for the selected Service Plan and/or Content Subscription as of the first day after the end of your Trial period. We will use the payment details you provided when you started the Trial to charge you.
