The Challenge

Beyond the Red Pen

Traditional handwritten exam marking is a cornerstone of education, yet it's often a time-consuming, subjective process that yields only a final score. What if every stroke of the pen, every equation, every diagram could offer a deeper story?

What if you could gain insights that truly inform learning, teaching, and strategic planning?

Our Solution

Gradie's Assessment Intelligence Platform

Gradie is an award-winning AI-powered platform that revolutionizes how handwritten exams are marked and understood. Leveraging advanced Artificial Intelligence, including sophisticated handwriting recognition, natural language processing, and deep learning to extracts comprehensive data from every student submission.

This data is then transformed into clear, actionable insights, empowering all stakeholders to make informed decisions that drive academic growth and institutional excellence.

it is ok, it will help teachers improve accuracy in marking. If I have the power, I will make the Gradie Solution a must have in the school

John Ogugwa

Basic Education and English Language Teacher

This is a welcome development, it may make teachers a little lazy now but it is a perfect one because it has features that looks into students feedback and recommendation. So it is a very good one.

Thomas Agbeingbor

Mathematics and Economics Teacher

Brilliant Solution!, it is so novel, captivating and it will go a long way in resolving a lot of challenges faced when it comes to marking exams especially theory.

Rev Fr Kelvin Ibhaze

Principal

This is an innovation in the education space and the school should embrace it whole heartedly. I will make this a must have if I had a school. It will quicken the pace at which teachers work.

Mr. Andrew Omogiagbe

History Teacher

Marking can be stressful especially when marking multiple for classes under a tight deadline. We are humans and a drop in concentration happens once in a while and this leads to over scoring or under scoring. Gradie solution will help consistent scoring and save us time.

Olatude Michael

Biology Teacher

I am amazed!, I have always known that Objective can be marked automatically and theory marked manually. I was really surprised to see a solution that marks theory automatically this well.
